

Cultural Diversity: Beyond Black and White

Sharon Lopez, Esq.

Ms. Lopez is currently the managing partner of Triquetra Law in Lancaster, PA. She graduated from Widener Law in 1993 and is the recipient of Widener Law 2008 Alumni of the Year award. She serves on the Widener Law Diversity Committee. She is a frequent presenter of employment law CLE including the Annual Supreme Court Employment Law Year in Review for the Lancaster Bar Association. In 2010, Ms. Lopez served as faculty coordinator for a statewide legal education program on litigating civil rights cases under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. She is involved in many federal, state, and county bar associations, often in leadership positions.

Dr. Harjit Singh, M.D.

Harjit Singh, MD, FSIR, is a member of the faculty of Penn State. He received his medical degree and radiology training from Albany Medical College where he completed his residency. Dr. Singh did a two-year fellowship in cardiovascular and interventional radiology at The Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions. In 1997, he accepted a faculty position at the Penn State Medical Center in Hershey, Pennsylvania. At Penn State, he established a clinical practice in Women's Health Intervention, his specialty. He has been Associate Dean for Diversity since May 2011. Dr. Singh was born in Hartford, Connecticut and grew up on Long Island.

Leo Dunn, Esq.

Leo L. Dunn is a gay attorney who decided to focus on estate planning law after both of his parents died without a will. He spends much of his time helping gay, lesbian, and other non-traditional couples after seeing how little protection they receive under state and federal law. Mr. Dunn graduated cum laude from Widener University School of Law. He holds three baccalaureate degrees from Penn State University. He has served the citizens of Pennsylvania for 19 years working at the Department of Agriculture and the Board of Probation and Parole.
