

Positioning Yourself for the Job Search

Rodney Akers, Esq.

Mr. Akers was appointed Deputy General Counsel in 2007. His chief administrative responsibilities involve managing business and technology aspects of the Office of General Counsel. Mr. Akers supervises and coordinates OGC's hiring committee, professional responsibility training initiatives, and intern/extern programs. He is responsible for OGC's law practice management, legal technology, and risk management initiatives, as well as overall management of outside counsel who perform legal services for OGC agency offices. A graduate of Harvard Law School, Mr. Akers served as law clerk to the Honorable John R. Hargrove, Sr. on the United States District Court in Maryland. He received his bachelor of arts with honors from the University of Virginia.

Benjamin C. Dunlap, Jr., Esq.

Mr. Dunlap is a partner at Nauman, Smith, Shissler & Hall, LLP. He concentrates his practice in business and employment law for companies ranging in size from startups to major national corporations and public utility and related work for railroad clients. His work with smaller companies encompasses contract drafting and litigation, including franchise agreements. Mr. Dunlap regularly assists small to mid-size companies in the areas of intellectual property rights, disputes with the Attorney General Office of Consumer Protection, and employment disputes before the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission as well as in state and federal courts.

Cory A. Iannacone, Esq.

Mr. Iannacone is a partner at Rhoads & Sinon, LLP. As a member of the Employment & Labor group, Mr. Iannacone represents both public and private sector employers in labor issues including collective bargaining agreement negotiations, defense of grievances, and defense of unfair labor practice charges before the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board and the National Labor Relations Board. As a member of the firm's Business Litigation practice group, Mr. Iannacone has gained trial experience before both state and federal courts where he has successfully defended and prosecuted claims on behalf of his clients. Mr. Iannacone is a 2005 summa cum laude graduate of Widener Law School – Harrisburg, where he was editor-in-chief of the Widener Law Journal.