AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR JUSTICE

ATTENTION STUDENTS MOCK TRIAL COMPETITION !!

The AAJ will be hosting a student mock trial competition this Fall. The competition will be held the week of October 19, 2009 in the evening. The trial problem will be a civil case, wrongful death suit. The competition is open to ALL STUDENTS regardless of year, rank or GPA. For first year students who have not had evidence, do not worry, Professor Nivala will be teaching a workshop which will be videotaped for anyone who cannot make it.

The American Association for Justice (AAJ), formerly ATLA, is a national professional organizations comprised mostly of criminal defense and civil plaintiff attorneys. The AAJ's law school chapter program allows students in law schools all over the country to learn and hone their trial advocacy skills through participation in mock trial competitions and an interscholastic competition. Membership in the organization also avails students the opportunity to network with attorneys from all over the nation. Currently two of the AAJ Governors and three past governors are Widener Alumni.

Sign-Ups for the competition will be held:

Wednesday, August 26, 2009 during Table Day at the AAJ table

Wednesday, September 2, 2009 at the AAJ table on Main Street

The Trial Packets will be distributed on:

Wednesday and Thursday, September 23 and 24, 2009 at the AAJ table on Main Street

The Workshop will be held on:

Thursday, October 15, 2009 at 4:30 in Law 118, Refreshments will be served

The Competition will be held on:

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of the week of October 19, 2009

Trials will be held from 6:00 - 8:00 p.m. and 8:00 - 10:00 p.m.

Students will have the opportunity to indicate their preference for the day and time to minimize having to miss classes. The Competition Committee will do their best to accommodate everyone to the extent possible.

Following sign-ups, there will be a brief information session and once packets are picked up, students are OBLIGATED to participate. Awards will be given in several categories.

This is a great opportunity for 1L students who think they might want to try out for Moe Levine in their second year to get experience in a trial advocacy competition. Furthermore, for any student who wishes to pursue a career in trial advocacy, frequent practice is key to success. Finally, for students who may not be able to participate in Moe Levine, AAJ is great resource for participating in a trial competition.

About the Journal

The Delaware Journal of Corporate Law is the most established law review of Widener University School of Law. Established in 1975, the Journal has continually provided the nation's legal community with well-researched and analytical articles on issues of timely significance. Currently in our thirty-fifth volume, the Journal publishes three issues per volume.

Because the Journal is situated in Delaware, the heart of American corporate activity, it is in a unique position to maintain a corporate law focus. Its scope, however, is extremely broad. We consider for publication articles that fall within the scope of the American Bar Association's Section of Business Law. Some of the current committees of that section are: Professional Responsibility; Insurance Law; Law Firms; Criminal Laws; Employee Benefits; Alternative Dispute Resolution; Environmental Controls; Food, Drug and Cosmetic Law; Health Law; International Business Law; Public Interest Issues; and Telecommunications. Accordingly, future members of the Journal can expect to develop a range of knowledge extending far beyond corporate law.

Recently, Washington & Lee Law School ranked the Journal 10th out of 411 specialized law reviews, 1st among student-edited journals based upon citations in federal and state court opinions under "Corporate Law," and 1st among 41 journals under "Business Law."

Some of our most notable subscribers include: The United States Supreme Court, Federal Trade Commission, General Mills, Bank of America, Time Warner, Inc., Blue Cross & Blue Shield, Skadden Arps Slate Meagher & Flom, Wachtell Lipton Rosen & Katz, and the Top 5 Delaware Law Firms.

News from the Journal

Be on the lookout for the Journal's On-Campus-Interviewing (OCI) and job recruitment panel coming early this fall. This panel will be comprised of 3L Journal members who have been successful in securing legal employment through OCI and other avenues. You won't want to miss this as our panelists shed light on the mysteries and challenges of securing legal employment. Information on the exact date and time of this panel will be released shortly.

Contact the Journal

If you have any questions about the Journal you can contact us by visiting us at www.djcl.org, emailing us at info@djcl.org, calling us at x2145, or simply stopping by our offices in Polishook.

Professors' Past Exams Posted on Widener's Exam Archive

Over 40 past and present Widener Law professors have provided copies of their exams to be posted on the Exam Archive accessible from the Law Library homepage. Approximately 300 exams are available, arranged under professors' names. To view the exams, a username and password are needed. Obtain these from the Reference Desk, then enter them on the Exam Archive login page. Be sure to click on the Enter box rather than using the enter key in order to go to the right page.

Library Cell Phone Etiquette

Please help maintain an atmosphere conducive to study in the library. Mute your cell phones and hold phone conversations outside of the library. Lounges and hallways are good places for extended conversations. Thanks for respecting the study space and needs of all users of our Library.

Widener's New Clinic Space

During the summer break, the former wing of the Law Building occupied by study rooms, book storage areas, librarians' offices, and library technical services facilities was transformed into a consolidated space for all of Widener's clinics. The staffs of the Delaware and Pennsylvania Clinics, Delaware Volunteer Legal Services (DVLS), the Public Interest Resource Center (PIRC), the Environmental Law Clinics, and the Veterans' Law Clinic are all enjoying their enlarged offices and conference rooms. A small moot court room is also under construction. Access to these clinics is through previously restricted doors from the driveway along the side of the building next to Concord Hall.

Computer Assisted Legal Research
Lab Now on First Floor of Library

The CALR lab has been moved to the first floor of the Library near the ITS computers. There are eight computer stations in the lab, and this is also where Lexis and Westlaw print jobs sent from anywhere in the library or elsewhere will be printed out. Lexis and Westlaw student representatives will be available in this room during certain hours of the week. Check with these reps or with Mary Alice Peeling, CALR Librarian, at 302-477-2115, if you have any questions about your Westlaw or Lexis account.
